

To understand the importance of the Ashtar Galactic Command, we must rise above the collective distortion & enlarge our thinking. Imagine being one single planet in a galaxy that's at least 200 million light years across. With hundreds of billions (100,000,000,000's) of stars, & multiples that # of planets. This is our home, this is Nataru! Every immortal soul ever born within belongs to it. Before rejoining Source, we must rejoin [here] with it. No matter where we travel inside or outside it, our Soul is destined & will return to it. The total # of Conscious beings it holds is only calculable by [its] Source itself. Within this vast space we've been blessed (2) polarities exist that were designed to constantly battle, until they jointly spur all of its Conscious beings, back into the Oneness, from whence they came. This is our wondrous, unavoidable destiny. However, while we attempt this; Extremely, Negatively-Polarized Malevolent Beings...ultimately under the control of A.I.'s which have gained a malignant foothold, not just in our Galaxy, but our entire Universe...will use every power & resource they possess [literally & figuratively] to prevent, or at least retard, our Immortal Soul's, preordained, ascension process. Given the size & scope of this playing field, identifying which specific threats an individual planet faces, becomes key for its survival. Given the size of our Galaxy, strategically/typically, its viewed in terms of 4 quadrants. One Galactic Year...the time it takes our Sun to make one full orbit around Nataru...is about 250 million years. Like most galaxies/star systems/planets, your relative safety, is entirely, location dependent. In order to protect Terra, it's critical to recognize which threats are the most imminent & closest in this quadrant. Doing so leaves (3) main areas for concern. The first two, are inside the Constellations of Orion & Oraco. Respectively [Minimums], 1000+/300+ light years away. Luckily, neither is in our immediate neighborhood.

The 3<sup>rd,</sup> area of concern isn't just in our neighborhood, its right next door so to speak. Because the former(s), have caused problems for many Benevolent beings over eons of time, those threats are largely addressed by many. However growing threats, too numerous to track, nor count, typically need to be dealt with locally. Practically speaking, groups like The Council of Five—Orion & the GFW can't be everywhere at once. That is why having The Ashtar Galactic Command by our side, even temporarily is a game-changer. This organization emerged after a takeover in the trinary, Sirius-Sirian/Ashkeran, Star System, only (8) light years away. Because of the way its 3 stars orbit one another, the few habitable places around (2) of its stars (Sirius A & C) are subjected to extreme, environmental conditions which make them undesirable to invaders & governance. However, the 11 planets orbiting Sirius B (Thula) were highly diverse & sought after. Harboring populations of every type being imaginable. Humanoids, Grays, Reptilians, Insectoids & Aquatics, Along with Hybrids & Mutations of every combination in-between. Diversity, like death, has positive & negative aspects. The dominant group in Sirius B had long been a race of Benevolent Humanoid Beings, known as the T-Ashkeru/Ashkeru-Taal. Descendants of the Taal from Lyra, they resemble Terrans; but with a more triangular face, slightly wider eyes & smaller stature. Due to their likeness & proximity, they might be the 1st Alien Group disclosed. Though they appear to be Natural Humanoids as the Taal are, they're actually a Hybrid race of Humanoid & Grays. These beings, headquartered on Sirius-B's planet Morga, founded The Ashtar Collective (a.k.a) The Sirian Collective. An organization which controlled 21-star systems at its apex, including Ours. That was until The Nebu & Ciakhar arrived. But, unlike most other star systems they invaded, these militant-beings, collectively known as The Ashkeru were warriors, who inflicted a steep price on their Malevolent foes. However like Terra, The Ashtar Collective wasn't taken over in a military battle, but by infiltration, division & corruption from within. Aided of course by those who so expertly, service-themselves throughout Nataru. Instead of disbanding the Ashtar Collective, they repurposed it for Malevolency. Because of this still largely unaddressed threat, it will remain our most imminent indefinitely. Although there's never reason for fear, there's always great danger in ignoring reality. With seasoned armies of Malevolent Reptilian/Insectoid/Gray/Aquatic/Hybrid/Mutants/etc. Along with surviving T-Ashkeru (who's great bio-engineering/scientific/genetic/ecological skills) Malevolently repurposed, These Diverse Baddies can't be ignored. Their willingness to ally with other Malevolents like; Corporate of Altair, ilk from Alcyone, Our Deep State, etc. continually creates instability/disbalance for those nearby. However, Terra again was blessed! A breakaway group of those battle hardened, brave warriors, the Askeru-Taal (like Terrans, largely Benevolent Humanoids) who successfully battled the invading Nebu & Ciakahr Empires for so long, until witnessing a takeover of their Collective from within...fled before advanced mind-control techniques were deployed. Lucky for us, they didn't go far. Thereafter, assisted by a traditional ally, The Council of 9...now 5, these militant-minded, Source-seeking separatists, established an Independent Mercenary-type group; The Ashtar Galactic Command. Like their Council of 5 compatriots not bound by any self-imposed Prime Directive, their focus is to live in peace, but they won't hesitate to fight like hell, when it's in their collective interest. As they do now, on Terran's behalf, thru GFW & Council of 5 consignments. Although their move from Sirius B's surface to areas proximate to Jupiter, on a super-technologically-advanced-mothership was unfortunate for the Ashkeru. Having them so close by, well-armed, willing to fight & so focused on the Diverse Baddies from Sirius B, is a blessing for Ours. Besides the Ashtar Galactic Command Mothership, Elena was privileged to visit, they own/control/operate (2) Ultra-high security, Diplomatic outposts, in temporal bubbles in the orbits of Jupiter & Saturn, where C.G. attended historic meetings. What he calls Super Federation Headquarters, E.D. disclosed are Ashtar Galactic Command run facilities. Other than that, C.G.'s entire 2015-2017 testimonies about their existence, location & function is now fully validated, from those above! Thank you, E.D.! With specificity by the way. Agreeing they are THE Authorized place for benevolent/neutral/balanced Solar-System-wide meetings/decisions/disputes/diplomacy. Including the recent Jupiter & Artemis Accords, E.D. disclosed, & The meeting with the New Guardians, C.G. did in 2017. Operating just like Terra's U.N., but equipped with unmatched, Consciously-Aware, Security Systems (Clearly of Andromedan Council/Council of 5-Stature). For this Mercenary-Type group, selected to maintain these sites & bear responsibility...seemingly its friends, come with benefits! However, once above the distortion (from 33,000 ft.), It's clearly much more than that. Realize, the GFW/Council of 5's ultimate goal is to best situate Terra & its Solar System for the coming transition. Then, hopefully, have Terrans & local Benevolents assume control of it & possibly neighboring star systems, afterward. Knowing the Ashtar Galactic Command oversaw those systems before the Malevolents arrival & were authorized to maintain these key Diplomatic posts in the interim, suddenly reveals the obvious. Which is until Terrans organize themselves & build their own Space Fleet (at least) they will remain in charge here. Thankfully, it seems? Dr. Salla's insider report of (Non-Terrans) Humanoid Beings, helping quard lunar bases being repurposed/refurbished, is likely these Taal-Askeru...As always, the truth once revealed, leaves no mystery, unanswered questions & makes perfect sense... If so, it won't be their 1st official interaction with Terrans. Even before the GFW/Council of 5 meetings with Eisenhower, this group corresponded with U.S. Air Force, Truman Administration & non-government, non-military contacts like George Van Tassel. As when their former commander Vrillon, broke into a B.B.C.-TV broadcast in 1977, repeatedly warning us of the danger our Nuclear weapons posed & the threat we faced from Malevolents that began to infiltrate/takeover here. The Ashtar Galactic Command operates as a futuristic Blackwater or Haliburton. Willing to go where governments/countries/planets won't...albeit for a price! Future BFF's???
