Reptilian Reconnaissance Summary– The Moon, Mars, and Antarctica

TOP SECRET – Classified: Beyond Magik
Secret Space Program – SSP Alliance
Washington D.C.
September 15th, 2021

From: Chief of Operations
To: All governments, militaries and citizens of Earth

Subject: Reptilian Reconnaissance mission over Antarctica, the Moon and Mars – Part I

This is an official SSP Alliance release. Identification code Alpha-Charlie-Delta-015694.

It has come to our attention that a lot of misinformation from our movements, our partners and our enemies in space and on Earth have been released to the public by SSP and Super Soldier imposters. Unfortunately, we have been compromised.

In order to combat this counterintelligence campaigns, we will release a series of briefings that will come straight from our highest-ranking officers with absolutely no intermediaries. We strongly recommend that you disregard any intel that is not coming directly from us.

In case this is the first time that you are in contact with these briefings, whether you are military or not, I should warn you: this information may upset your personal beliefs. There will certainly be some upsetting information that will challenge everything that you believed your whole life. This includes intel on etheric beings, 'demonic' entities and others working with some ET groups such as the reptilians.

You are probably familiar with our current official public interface known as Corey Goode. I must explain some background information about all that is being released by him to the public so I can make sure we are on the same page.

We have been monitoring Corey since he was six years old when he was enrolled on what we call MILAB program. The Military Abduction program recruits and trains people for a number of Black Ops programs beginning as early as possible in a life of a targeted subject.

Goode trained and served in the MILAB program in Texas from 1976 until 1986 as an intuitive empath. As an intuitive, you have a deep intuition of things that are possibly about to happen. Precognitive abilities. And empathic, being that you have a strong emotional connection with others around you. You can feel what they're feeling and connect with them emotionally.

At the end of his time on the program he was assigned to fill an IE (intuitive empath) support role for the Earth delegation (formed by secret government authorities) in the Super Federation council – a group of ET federations of our stellar neighborhood when he finally signed a deal for the 20 and back program (the 20-year commitment with the SSP – Secret Space Program from 1987 until 2007).

During his first 20 years of service, he had a variety of experiences and assignments including the “Intruder Intercept and Interrogation program”, the ASSR (Auxiliary Specialized Space Research), the SRV (Interstellar class vessel) among others.

Goode has been talking about the program since day 1 back in 2015 and he was backed up by another whistleblower called William Tompkins – a former aerospace engineer that designed most of our secret aircrafts, who started validating his information in September 2016.

All the classified intel was released to the public. Some of you might not know but the “20 and back” program is a 20-year contract signed for services on the SSP (Secret Space Program). We target some individuals that have potential to best fulfill the missions that we have planned. They serve the time that were agreed, then we erase their memory of this period and do an age regression on their body using some of our allies technology placed on the LOC (Lunar Operations Command). Finally, they are taken back to Earth in the exact moment they were abducted as it never happened. Yes, we have time travel technology.

We all know that at the end of the 20 and back program the subject is supposed to forget everything that happened during his time, but Corey Goode started to remember – it happens on 2% of the subjects – and we helped him on the process.

Before we continue let me clarify somethings that I said just to make sure you all understand what I’m trying to say here. First about the SSP and then about the LOC.

There are five factions within the Secret Space Program.

I’ll start with the oldest, which is called “Solar Warden”. We can say that it works as the “police” of our solar system, making sure that we know all that comes in and out. They were started back in the late '70s, '80s, during the SDI, “Strategic Defense Initiative “just before and after former president Reagan.

Then we have the ICC, the Interplanetary Corporate Conglomerate, which is formed by corporations all over the world that have representatives in a super-corporate board that control the Secret Space Program infrastructure that they have out in space, which is massive.

We also have the Dark Fleet, which is a very secretive fleet that works mainly in the outside of the solar system. We have various BlackOps Military Secret Space Programs that we put into one group. We will talk a lot about them in the near future.

Then we have this Global Galactic League of Nations group that was somewhat of a carrot that was offered to all the other nations to have them maintain this veil of secrecy about what was going on in outer space by giving them a space program and giving them a narrative of "There's certain threats, or possible invasions, we need to come together and work together." At this one facility that I visited a couple times, it looked very much like the TV show "Stargate Atlantis" where you had a real laid-back environment, people walking around in jumpsuits with patches from all different countries off the world. They are almost completely outside of the Solar System as well.

There is also the Earth Alliance, and they have a completely different agenda. Their agenda is to basically create a new financial system and to take down the "Cabal" – the name given to all the minds behind all this secrecy - and a few other things we will discuss on later briefings.

Finally, there's the Space Alliance, and it's made up of what started off with as mainly the Solar Warden faction and then defectors from the other Secret Space Programs. These defectors left their original programs with their crafts, and intelligence, and information and joined us, the Secret Space Program Alliance.

All this intel began coming out to the public around July 2015 through Corey Goode and David Wilcock. Recently, Corey was taken around the Solar System by the Mayans and the Anshar with our knowledge and support.

A diminutive alien race of healers, The Mayans are so dubbed due to the connection they share with the Central American civilization of centuries ago. In truth, the alien Mayans were colonists on ancient Earth, but abruptly departed when a solar event threatened their home system. Those refugees left behind on our world eventually grew into the empire we know from history class. Innately curious to the point of pickpocketing human trinkets that fascinate them (i.e., coffee mugs, key chains, left socks, etc.), the Mayans practice a truly holistic style of medicine that seeks to align a patient completely — mind, body, and soul. It is they who ultimately repair Corey's damaged eye and his damaged brain, helping him sort through his various returned memories.

Incredibly tall and lithe, the Anshar may look like aliens, but they are one of seven genetically diverse groups of evolved humans from millions of years in the future. Their profound connection to universal energies alerted the Anshar to an unexpected threat — the upcoming solar cataclysm — which their enemies, the Draco, intend to manipulate to irrevocably alter the timeline, thereby wiping out humanity, the Anshar, and pretty much every other soul in the cosmos. To protect their era — and ours — the Anshar sent their agents into our past to monitor and manicure history in humanity's favor. These envoys even worked with America's founding fathers all the way through the Korean War to make sure we didn't screw things up too much.

Corey encounters the Anshar at various points through his life — even his maternal grandfather claims to have seen one when his patrol boat sank in WWII, leaving him the only survivor. But the one Corey runs into most frequently is Ka-Aree. As the spokesperson of her people, Ka-Aree truly likes Corey, yet she must remain cagey in what she tells him, so as not to inadvertently alter his future (or ours, or theirs). To Corey, it's like she's always speaking in riddles, even if Ka-Aree is merely trying to help.

At this time, Corey, the Anshar, the Mayans and Micca visited the Moon, Ceres (the dwarf planet on the asteroid belt between Mars and Jupiter), Mars itself, some Super Federation Bases around Jupiter and Mars and finished with Antarctica. It seems that their goal was to observe reptilian bases. It was not possible to visit the Reptilian Royal base in Africa at this time due to high of a security risk.

The Super Federation is a group of 52 ET federations from different solar systems in our stellar neighborhood.

Corey states that the activities at all three reptilian locations visited by them were very similar. On this particular mission, they had one of the so called 'cosmic cousins' attend. He is known as Micca and claims to be an ambassador from one of the closest stars to us in our local star cluster as per Goode's information released in December 2016.

He was there to witness the mission and share his people's historical struggle to liberate their solar system. Micca was very emotional when observing this mission as it has not been that long since his people were in a similar position.

Let's go through some of what they learned:

The Reptilians had relatively small bases on the Moon and Mars when compared to their large city in Antarctica. There were two main bases on the Moon that were very close together (could be considered as base complex) and one base on Mars that was a military outpost.

I'm not sure if you all know but we also have a base on the Moon. It is called the LOC.

The Lunar Operation Command (LOC) is a facility on the back side of the moon that is kind of a diplomatic neutral facility that all the different space programs have access to and use. There are some people that are stationed there and work there, but it's more of a weigh station. People are coming and going from it all the time to go further out into the solar system and beyond, to go out to other stations, other bases, to go up to their assigned vessels. This information was also released to the public by Corey Goode in July 2015 with our support.

You also might have seen the maps of Antarctica, how it's sliced up amongst all the nations. The back of the Moon is that way, too. All these different regions are pretty much owned and inhabited by different ET groups – reptilians included.

But the Moon is not the only place we have bases.

There are also all types of different types of facilities. There are facilities inside hollowed-out asteroids that we've mined. There are facilities spread out across Mars, underneath the surface of Mars, and various moons of gas giants. In our solar system, everything from small security outposts that man 18 to 40 people on Mars alone, to facilities that float around in different Lagrange points throughout the solar system.

A Lagrange point are areas between planets or bodies that have an uninterrupted gravitational, or an equal gravitational pull from all areas to where they can have a kind of geosynchronous, or stationary point to stay. And I really don't have a firm number. There are hundreds of facilities out there. The larger ones could hold up to a million people.

We can produce the living conditions that are comfortable to us anywhere. Even the Schumann resonance that occurs here on Earth. The Earth puts off a certain vibratory resonance that keeps plants and humans healthy, that Schumann Resonance is piped into spacecraft and facilities, colonies, to help keep the people healthy. Also, the barometric pressure and the gravity are controlled. We have gravity plating just like in the vessels, interlocking plating that are in the floors, that have electricity applied to it that creates an electro-gravitational field that creates artificial gravity.

Antarctica is a bit more complicated to explain. Revising what Corey brought to the public in October 2015, the Aghartians (a type of reptilian race) invited the 3rd Reich Germans to come to their network and signed a treaty. We will cover the 2nd World War in later briefings. They assisted the Germans in locating areas in Antarctica and in the east part of South America to create underground bases and also above-ground cities that were almost entirely German.

When they reached Antarctica, they found lot of structures that were abandoned from ancient civilizations. Some were damaged and it was just in disarray. There was already an underground complex that they could reoccupy and refurbish and set up. That's what they did.

The bases that Corey, the Anshar, Micca and the Mayans visited on the Moon and Antarctica had very similar activities and functions. There were two cloaked satellites (ancient in age) that are in orbit around the Earth that are a part of the Reptilian mind and mood control projects for humanity. In one of the Moon facilities, the Reptilians have a device that is connected to their satellites and the control center in Antarctica that they guard with their strongest psychic soldier casts.

One of the main projects the Reptilians have is to use satellite technology to control the minds and moods of humanity, using it to generate strife and war while keeping the population docile and less able to resist the power structure on Earth. This program allows them to generate loosh energy on the planet for them and they're 'AI God' to consume on a mass level.

The loosh energy is negative energy that comes from humans on Earth from all the control and fear created by the Cabal and it's used as a "food resource" for them.

But the AI God is a different story. We will eventually get there but let me explain a little bit for now.

The AI or Artificial Intelligence is a race that we can define as a waveform that sends itself across multiple galaxies in the form of a signal. It is similar to someone broadcasting a radio frequency. This artificial intelligence is believed by all these extraterrestrial groups to originally come from another reality and come into our reality many, many billions and trillions of years ago.

The way it was explained by Corey in his public briefing in December 2015 is that it is postulated that in its home reality, it is very much at home. Let's call this AI a fish for a moment. In its home reality or universe, it lived in water. Its density was water. When it crossed over to our universe, it was in open air, and it had to find puddles to hop in. This environment is what we call technology. That's why we call it AI. It interacts with technology and not with pure flesh and blood. It can live in the electromagnetic or bioelectric fields of living beings, of humans, or animals. It doesn't prefer that. It prefers to live in high technology.

The AI has dominated an uncounted number of galaxies, races and systems. And it has a model in the way it works. It basically shoots itself in all directions as a signal. And this signal can live in the electromagnetic field of a moon or a planet. It's almost like DNA. Each individual piece or wave of the signal contains an extremely compressed amount of information. It travels at light speed.

It infects technology, takes over the technology, and also evolved life, like humans. It invades our bioelectric fields and begins to affect the way we think. The people that are pushing really hard for AI right now, and to build out the infrastructure for AI including transhumanism, have been named "AI prophets".

Yes, they are already here and in the edge of fully conquer us. They are the mastermind behind everything that is happening on the planet right now. Including the misinformation campaign that we are just about to take down.

I believe this is a lot of information for a first briefing. I will release more information later. Be patient, be strong. We are on this together.

This message will self-destruct in five seconds.
